

A Complete Step-by-Step Process for Study in Italy

This guide provides a step-by-step explanation of the admission process, scholarship applications, and visa procedures for students planning to study in Italy. It also includes a list of the universities that do not require IELTS.

The flow-chart of study in Italy: Admission to Visa

- How do I find and shortlist universities?
- How and where to apply for admission in Italian universities?
- Required Documents for Admission.
- Verification process of documents.
- List of universities offering English-taught programs.
- Booking an appointment at the embassy for visa processing.
- Required documents for the embassy.
- How to apply for scholarships.
- Steps to follow after arriving in Italy.
- Templates of documents required for visas and scholarships.

Summary information:

The admissions process typically begins between January and March/April every year. To secure a place at an Italian university, students must first research and shortlist their preferred institutions. Once a university is selected, they need to submit an application along with the required academic documents. It is important to verify these documents as per the university's guidelines to avoid any delays in the admission process.

After receiving an admission offer, students can apply for scholarships, which are available based on merit, financial need, or specific programs. Various organizations, universities, and government bodies in Italy offer scholarships to international students. Applicants should carefully review the eligibility criteria and deadlines before submitting their applications.

Once the admission and scholarship processes are complete, students must apply for a study visa. This involves booking an appointment at the Italian embassy, submitting necessary documents, including proof of admission and financial stability, and attending an interview if required. The visa process may take several weeks, so it is advisable to apply well in advance.

Upon arrival in Italy, students should complete additional formalities, such as obtaining a residence permit, registering with the local authorities, and arranging accommodation. They should also familiarize themselves with university regulations and academic schedules to ensure a smooth transition into their studies.

Since admission requirements, scholarship opportunities, and visa regulations may change over time, it is always recommended to check official university websites and embassy guidelines for the most up-to-date information.

For up-to-date information about a specific university, you are advised to check its official website. Simply type the university's name into Google and look for the section related to international students, or "Extra EU-Foreign Students," on the university's website. This section typically provides details on admission requirements, application deadlines, scholarships, visa procedures, and other important guidelines for non-EU applicants.

Chapter 1: How to find and shortlist universities in Italy?

Step 1: Find and Shortlist Universities

The first step in applying to an Italian university is to find and shortlist the universities that offer programs in your field of study. Ensure that the program is available in English-taught courses, especially if you are not proficient in Italian.

You can search for universities through the following websites:

- University: <https://www.university.it>
- Bachelors Portal: <https://www.bachelorsportal.com>
- Europe Graduates Hotline: <https://europe.graduateshotline.com/it.html>

Once you have shortlisted your options, the next step is to check each university's admission requirements and entry conditions on their official website.

For example:

STEP:02
Target your course of interest as well as the university

1. Now you can choose your desired public university.
2. Make a list of universities. If you meet the requirements
3. website: <https://www.universitaly.it/inde.../cercacorsi/universita..>

The image shows a screenshot of the Italian University website. A red dashed border surrounds the content. On the right, there is a large image of the Leaning Tower of Pisa. The website interface includes a search bar, a 'WELCOME TO UNIVERSITALY' banner, and a navigation menu with options like 'SDM', 'Accesso Programmato and IMAT', and 'Informazioni Studenti'. A red arrow points from the search bar to a search result for 'FINANCE - LM-56' at 'Università degli Studi di Napoli Federico II'. A red circle with the number '1' is next to the search bar, and a red circle with the number '2' is next to the search result.

Step 2: Check University Admission Requirements

Each university has its own admission criteria, so it is important to check the requirements carefully. Some universities require IELTS or TOEFL, while others offer admission without IELTS (a list of such universities is provided later in this guide).

Deadlines:

Most universities have one major intake per year (January–March/April), but some offer two intakes (Fall & Spring). It is recommended to apply in the first intake as it provides better chances for scholarships and funding. If you miss the first intake, check if a second intake is available and apply accordingly. You can find all these details on the university's official website under the admissions section.

Below in this file you will find a list of universities open for Admission

Step 3: Prepare Required Documents

Required Documents for Italy

- Passport
- Europass CV
- All Education Documents (Attested)
- Two Recommendation Letters
- English Proficiency Certificate
- IETLS (Optional)
- Experience Letter (if Any)
- Letter of Motivations
- Police Clearance Certificates
- Extra Circular Activities

You can find tips and templates for the required documents at the following resource:
Scholarship Documents | Mr.T – Google Drive: Click here to download

Step 4: Start Applying to Your Shortlisted Universities

Once you have shortlisted your preferred universities, start applying as early as possible before the deadline. Each university has a different procedure for application submission.

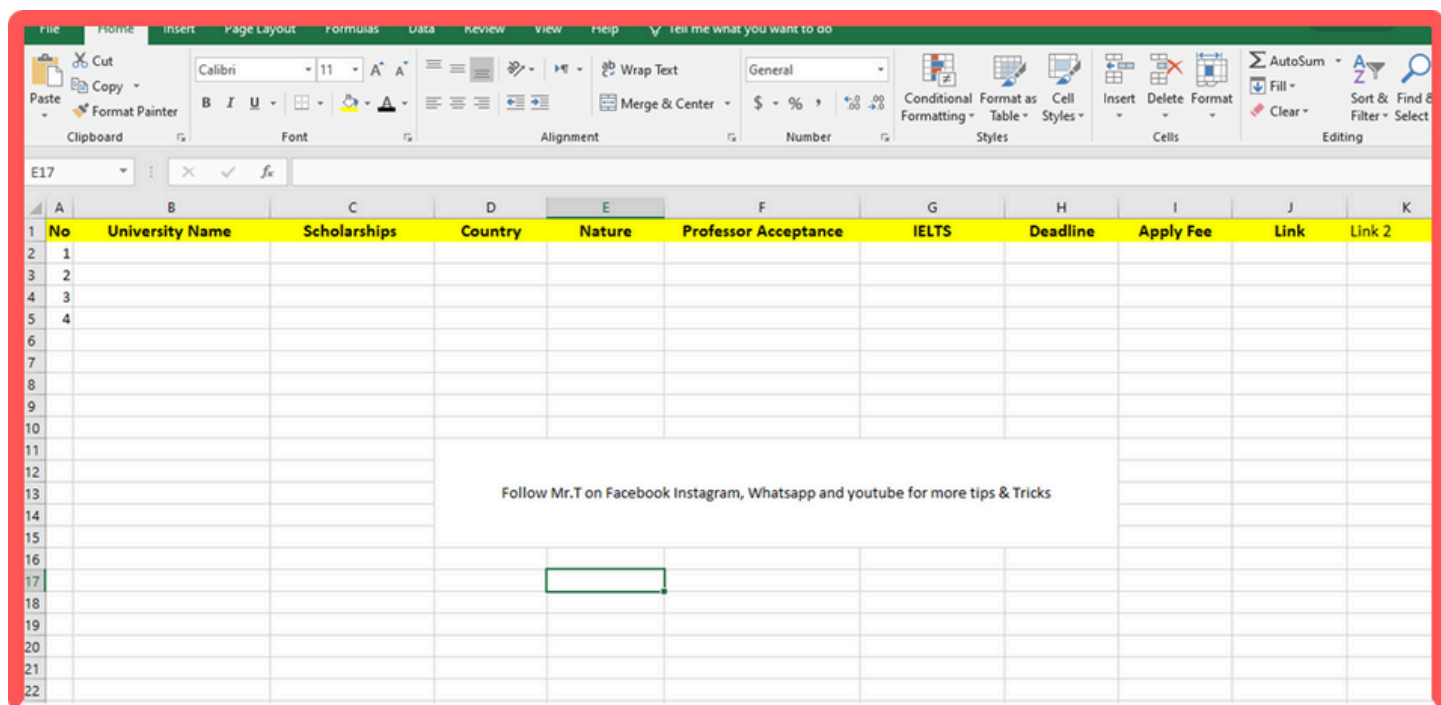

You can refer to my YouTube channel for application processes:

Mr.T Scholarships Channel – Playlist "Study in Italy":

<https://www.youtube.com/@MrTScholarshipsChannel>

It is highly recommended to apply early, as universities have a limited number of seats and admissions are often granted on a first-come, first-served basis. Submitting applications early maximizes your chances of admission.

Tip: Shortlist universities in an Excel sheet like this:

Step 5: Wait for Result

Apply to 2–3 universities and programs to improve your chances.

Some universities may also require admission tests or online interviews, depending on their policies. If eligible, you will receive an offer letter or a letter of acceptance within approximately 15–30 days after evaluation of your documents.

Step 6: Attest All Your Educational Documents

If your educational documents are not attested yet, you must complete attestation from the following institutions:

- Board
- IBCC
- HEC
- MOFA

The whole attestation process takes around 1–2 months.

You can refer to this video for complete guidance:

Attestation Process of Educational Documents | Board | IBCC | HEC | MOFA – Step-by-Step:

Step 7: Pre-Enrollment and Visa Process for Italian Universities

Once you receive your admission or pre-acceptance letter, you must complete the pre-enrollment and visa process. This varies depending on your region in Pakistan:

Below is a structured explanation of how to proceed.

For students from Punjab, KPK, Gilgit, and the Capital, the pre-enrollment process is handled by the Italian Embassy in Islamabad. Once you have your admission letter and required documents, you need to book an appointment at the embassy. The pre-enrollment period is from April to July, so booking early is recommended. On the scheduled day, students must visit the embassy with their documents and attend an interview. After the interview, the embassy will notify students via email or phone about the status of their pre-enrollment. If everything is in order, the embassy will issue a Declaration of Value (DOV), which is required for the visa application. This process usually takes around 15 to 30 days.

For students from Sindh and Balochistan, the process is different as it is handled through the Italian Consulate in Karachi. The first step is to apply for the Declaration of Value (DOV) through Gerry's Office. Once the DOV application is submitted, Gerry's Office forwards it to the Italian Consulate for verification. When the DOV is ready, students receive an email notification from Gerry's Office regarding collection. This step generally takes between 30 to 45 days. After obtaining the DOV, students can proceed with the visa application. The required documents are submitted to Gerry's Office, which then forwards them to the Italian Consulate for processing. If everything is in order, students will be called for a visa interview. After the interview, the consulate will notify students about their visa status via email.

DOV Vs CIMEA: Differences, Costs, and Importance

The Declaration of Value (DOV) is an official document issued by the Italian Consulate or Embassy in a student's home country. It confirms that the foreign degree or qualification is recognized and comparable to the Italian education system.

Key Features of DOV:

- It is processed through the Italian Embassy or Consulate in the student's home country.
- Required for pre-enrollment and student visa.
- Takes approximately 15–45 days to process.
- Generally less expensive than CIMEA, as it mainly involves local and consulate verification fees.
- Can only be issued before arriving in Italy.

Checklist for Declaration of Value – It is required for all students

- Passport copy
- Admission letter copy
- Form A, C (Templates given in Appendix below)
- Bachelor's degree / Master's degree original + 3 copies
Attested by: MOFA + HEC + respective university and translated into Italian language
- Transcript original + 3 copies
Attested by: MOFA + HEC + respective university and translated into Italian language
- Higher secondary school certificate original + 3 copies
Attested by: MOFA + IBCC + respective board and translated into Italian language
- Secondary school certificate original + 3 copies
Attested by: MOFA + IBCC + respective board and translated into Italian language

What Are Form A and Form C?

- Form A: This is a declaration form provided by the applicant, confirming their intent to study in Italy and outlining personal and academic details.
- Form C: This form is typically completed by the Italian university where the student has been admitted. It confirms the student's enrollment and provides details about the course of study.

What is CIMEA?

CIMEA (Centro Informazioni sulla Mobilità e le Equivalenze Accademiche) is an Italian-based independent organization that provides comparative evaluation of foreign qualifications. It is an alternative to the DOV and is directly recognized by Italian universities.

Key Features of CIMEA:

- It is processed online, making it convenient for students.
- Recognized by most Italian universities.
- More expensive than DOV (typically costs between €150 and €300 depending on the service and urgency).
- It takes approximately 4–6 weeks for processing.
- Can be obtained before or after arriving in Italy.

Step 8: Visa Application Process

Once the pre-enrollment is completed and the DOV is received, the next step is the visa application. Students must prepare the necessary documents for submission to the Italian Embassy or Consulate. These include the visa application form, CNIC copy, admission letter, attested educational documents, Form A & Form C, IELTS certificate, polio certificate, and financial proof. Some universities do not require IELTS for admission, but the embassy may still ask for it as part of the visa requirements.

Applicants must also provide proof of accommodation in Italy, which can be done through a dummy hotel booking for at least one month. Additionally, a dummy flight ticket must be included to show intended travel plans. Travel insurance covering a minimum of 30,000 euros is also a requirement.

A key part of the visa application is financial proof. Students must submit a sponsor affidavit of support, a sponsor's bank statement, and an account maintenance certificate showing sufficient funds. The standard financial requirement is around 8,000 euros or 15 lakh PKR.

Along with this, applicants need to provide their family registration certificate from NADRA and medical documents.

For students from Sindh and Balochistan, the visa application is submitted through Gerry's Office, which then forwards it to the Italian Consulate. The visa processing fee is approximately Rs. 14,200 (check official website for updated price) for a one-year student visa. After document verification, the embassy or consulate will schedule an interview. Once approved, students will receive confirmation of their visa status via email.

Important Considerations

Since the DOV/CIMEA and visa application take time, it is important to start the process early. Delays in booking an appointment or submitting documents can lead to complications in visa approval. Checking official embassy websites for updates is essential, as requirements may change.

Students should also ensure that they prepare well for the visa interview. The consulate may ask questions about the study program, financial situation, and future plans. Being well-prepared and having all necessary documents can help in securing a successful visa approval.

By following these steps, students can smoothly navigate the pre-enrollment and visa application process for studying in Italy.

Step 9: Waiting for Passport Collection After Visa Approval

Once the interview is completed, students must wait for the passport collection call from the Italian embassy or consulate. This process takes six to seven months in total, so students should remain patient. The usual timeline for passport issuance is August to October, depending on the volume of applications.

After visa approval, students will receive their passport back with a visa sticker or a rejection letter. If granted the visa, they can proceed with travel arrangements to Italy and prepare for university enrollment.

Step 10: Scholarship Guidelines for International Students in Italy

Italy offers a variety of scholarships to international students, which can significantly reduce the financial burden of studying abroad. These scholarships are provided either by universities based on academic merit or by regional government organizations like LazioDisco, which offer need-based financial aid.

It is important to understand that scholarships and student visa applications are completely separate processes. Even if you apply for a scholarship, you must still prove to the Italian embassy that you have enough financial resources to cover your living and study expenses before traveling to Italy.

Types of Scholarships Available in Italy

1.1 Merit-Based Scholarships (University Scholarships)

Many universities in Italy offer merit-based scholarships that are granted based on a student's academic performance. Some universities automatically consider students for these scholarships at the time of admission, while others may require a separate application.

If you receive a merit scholarship, it may cover tuition fees, partial financial support, or even a monthly stipend depending on the university's policy. However, these scholarships are highly competitive, and not all students receive them.

If you do not receive a university scholarship, you can still apply for regional government scholarships, such as LazioDisco, which are based on financial need.

1.2 Government Scholarships (LazioDisco and Other Regional Scholarships)

The Italian government provides scholarships through regional organizations that support students based on financial need rather than academic merit. The most popular regional scholarship is LazioDisco, which is offered to students studying in Rome and its surrounding areas. Other regions in Italy also have similar scholarship programs, but LazioDisco is one of the most well-known.

These scholarships can help cover: ✓ Tuition fees

✓ Accommodation expenses

✓ Living costs (food, transportation, and daily expenses)

How to Apply for LazioDisco Scholarship?

The LazioDisco scholarship follows a structured application process, and students need to ensure they meet all requirements before applying.

Step 1: Online Application Process (June – July)

- Visit the official LazioDisco website: <https://www.laziodisco.it>
- Create an account and fill out the online application form with the required details.
- Once the form is submitted, you will receive an application receipt as confirmation.

Step2: Submission of Documents (By Post to Italy)

After completing the online application, students must send hard copies of required documents to the LazioDisco office in Italy.

- Print the LazioDisco application receipt.
- Attach a copy of your passport.
- Send the documents using a reliable courier service.

- Do not send money or combine multiple students' documents in one envelope.

Step 3: Verification Process (PIN Activation in Italy)

- After receiving the documents, LazioDisco will send a PIN code to the student's Italian address.
- The student must log into their LazioDisco account and enter the PIN for verification.
- This confirms the student's eligibility for the scholarship.

Step 4: Selection Process (August – September)

- LazioDisco will announce the list of selected scholarship winners.
- If your name is on the list, you must submit additional documents for the final approval.

Scholarship Disbursement and Living Arrangements

Q When Will You Receive the Scholarship Funds?

Scholarship payments do not arrive immediately after reaching Italy. The first installment takes 4–5 months to be processed. Therefore, students must have at least €2000–2200 for initial expenses, which will cover:

- ✓ University tax (if applicable)
- ✓ Residence permit (Permesso di Soggiorno) fees
- ✓ Transportation and daily living costs
- ✓ Rent and other essential expenses

The LazioDisco scholarship is paid in two installments:

First installment: €2600, released after 4–5 months.

- Second installment: €2600, released after 10 months.

4.2 Accommodation and Scholarship Adjustments

If a student accepts LazioDisco-provided accommodation (such as university hostels), then the scholarship amount will be adjusted. LazioDisco will reduce the scholarship amount to cover housing expenses, and the student will receive the remaining amount (approximately €3000–3500).

However, if a student arranges private accommodation, they are eligible to receive the full scholarship amount (€5200).

 Important: If you are assigned a LazioDisco hostel but choose not to live there, you must submit a house contract proving your residence. Without this contract, LazioDisco may reduce your scholarship amount or refuse to release full payments.

Visa Process and Required Documents:

Students from Sindh/Baluchistan – DOV and Visa

Prepare above-mentioned documents of DOV as soon as possible. Once all documents are ready, submit these documents at Gerry Office. Gerry will forward your application to Consulate. Once your DOV is ready, you will receive a call/email from Gerry to collect it – usually it takes one month or maybe more or less sometime.

Meanwhile, students can prepare documents for visa, and when DOV is ready for collection and visa documents are also prepared, submit a visa file at Gerry Office. Again, Gerry Office will forward student's application to Consulate. After some time, student will receive a call from Consulate for Visa Interview.

(1) When the qualification is issued by a High School belonging to a different education system than the one of the student's country of residence - for instance, a Swiss student attending a British school in Switzerland – or of the country where the candidate studies or studied – for instance, Swiss student attending a British school in Kenya – the qualification must be legalized, must be provided with a Dichiarazione di valore in loco and of the translation drafted by the competent Italian Diplomatic Authorities, which in the examples mentioned above, would be the Italian Consulate General in London.

(2) For students coming from countries where entrance examinations exist to be admitted into Higher Education, the candidates must submit, together with the final High School leaving certificate, also a document stating that they have passed the academic suitability examination in their home countries (such as Selectividad in Spain, Prova de Aferição or Prova Geral de Acesso ao Ensino Superior in Portugal). Nonetheless, it is not necessary to have passed such examination for all those courses or faculties that in Italy have numerus clausus. All applications submitted by candidates, who do not have the document of academic suitability, will be accepted since their academic suitability will be examined by the terms scheduled in the corresponding calendar of examinations.

(3) As far as further documents to be attached to the present form are concerned, the candidates must follow the instructions of the University that will examine the present application.
